Community Engagement

The rural police team based at Stockbridge have had a busy start to 2010 looking at their engagement plans across all the rural villages.

While our core role is to prevent and detect crime, it is also very important that the rural team is accessible to its community. Therefore each beat manager has now set out a number of community engagement meetings within their villages so that local residents can raise any concerns they may have and assist with setting out priorities that the police and partner agencies will look to address.

These meetings include beat surgeries outside many of the local primary schools, attendance at parish council meetings and visits to NHW meetings and some of the many social gatherings that are planned across the rural Test Valley villages.

The rural police team are keen to engage with all members of the rural community and if anyone would like their local officer to visit their group or meeting then please contact them. Details of where your local police officer or PCSO will be attending in the next month are available from our own page on the Hampshire Constabulary web site.

Kind Regards

PS 3991 Glenn Curtis
